He Puāwaitanga – A Time to Celebrate

E te karanga o te rā, tēnā koe.

He Puāwaitanga is one of the most significant moments in the journey of our tauira – a time to reflect on the challenges overcome, the knowledge gained, and the future that now lies ahead. It's a privilege to join you, your whānau, classmates, and kaiako in celebrating this incredible milestone.

He Puāwaitanga means 'to come to fruition', and represents not just the completion of your studies, but the growth and transformation you have experienced along the way. Today is a testament to your resilience, determination, and commitment to your goals. Whether your journey has taken months or years, you have persevered through challenges and emerged stronger. For that, we acknowledge and celebrate you.

We've long believed that education is transformative, and our vision, "He takapau mātauranga, he whānau huarewa—whānau transformation through education," speaks to the impact learning has beyond the individual. When one person succeeds, their whānau, hapū, and iwi benefit too. That's why your achievement today is not just yours alone—it's something to be shared and celebrated by all those who have supported you along the way.

At Te Wānanga o Aotearoa, our mission is simple: 'Kia angitu te tauira – tauira success'. Success means something different for each of you. For some, this tohu will open doors to new career opportunities. For others, it represents a pathway to empowering your whānau, marae, hapū, iwi, and wider community. No matter what success looks like to you, today is about recognising how far you've come and the possibilities that now await.

I encourage you to embrace the opportunities that come next. Continue striving for excellence, continue learning, and continue using your skills and knowledge to create positive change. This is not the end of your learning journey, but a stepping stone to whatever comes next. Education is lifelong, and we hope to see many of you return to learn with us again in the future. Wherever your path leads, know that you'll always be a valued part of our whānau.

Take pride in this moment, celebrate your success, and enjoy the recognition you have worked so hard for. We're all incredibly proud of you.

Ngā manaakitanga

English teacher's search for cultural identity sparks love for te reo Māori

English kaiako Cathy Purdie began her reo Māori journey in 1997, intending to uncover more about her cultural identity.

She wanted to understand what it meant to be a New Zealand Pākehā, but after just a few weeks of learning te reo Māori, she had accepted that it didn't matter what it meant to be Pākehā and had instead fallen in love with te reo.

After learning te reo Māori on and off for several years, in 2018 she enrolled in Te Pūtaketanga o te Reo Level 4 at Te Wānanga o Aotearoa. She has since completed Te Aupikitanga ki te Reo Kairangi Level 6.

"Studying te reo through Te Wānanga o Aotearoa has changed me. I am Pākehā, with no Māori whakapapa, and when I began level 4, I didn't feel much of a connection with the whenua. But now I am aware of the land in a completely new way. The hills have an energy and a presence that I can feel. What has changed me? Learning the Māori way of seeing things."

Cathy is an English kaiako at Dynaspeak, a wāhanga of Te Wānanga o Aotearoa. Although she teaches students te reo Pākehā, she still finds her reo Māori knowledge beneficial in her mahi.

"It (te reo) is extremely useful in my mahi because, from time to time, someone is needed to proofread Māori phrases, sing waiata, and so on. Learning te reo has also helped me to do a better job of teaching students about pūrākau and other aspects of Māori culture."

For the first time in her life, while completing an assessment, Cathy realised that she knew very little of her grandmother's family history.

With no Māori whakapapa, learning about her whānau waka was not easy, and she realised the importance of knowing the stories of her family.

"My second cousin was the one who knew all the family stories, but her health has been frail. Had that assessment not spurred me to talk to my cousin before it was too late, I would never have heard her stories. Having heard my cousin's stories has changed who I am. I have found part of me that I never knew was missing, and I feel stronger and more solid."

Cathy encourages others to take up the opportunity to learn te reo Māori. She recommends Te Wānanga o Aotearoa, saying, "You should learn te reo through Te Wānanga o Aotearoa. You won't just be gaining vocabulary and grammar. The things you will gain as a person are at least equally important."

Sophie is grateful for the learning environment that's been created by the Te Wānanga o Aotearoa kaiako and praises them for their dedication to their mahi and local community.

"We're lucky to have a safe space to learn and kaiako that are passionate about what they're teaching. I'm so grateful for the time and dedication they give us. Even though I only started learning here last year, I'm lucky to be here."

Sophie's journey is an example of the role that education plays in preserving and elevating Māori culture, inspiring other rangatahi Māori to embrace their language and identity.
